Ecowrap is a waste-tech reverse supply chain concept entirely focused on waste segregation at the source. The CEO of the Jaipur-based start-up, Angraj Swami, mentioned, "the most challenging aspect of waste management is segregation at source. Ecowrap is a waste management FMCG supply chain platform for hotels, cafes, and restaurants (HORECA). The start-up offers free waste bins to the users to segregate different waste at the source. The collected waste gets resold to various manufacturers and recyclers. It builds awareness about waste segregation and upcycles and recycles waste to make handy products. In addition, it also employs students from design schools and local artisans.
